First Aid Preparedness Picture This

What’s wrong in this picture? Making the workplace a safe environment is one of the top priorities of companies & organizations across Canada. Yet, despite the many safety precautions in place, accidents still occur and workers get injured. That’s why it is imperative that your staff know essential first aid in the workplace. Combined with awareness and quick thinking, these simple actions can help prevent accidents and injuries.