Mold Awareness Refresher

Course Description

Learners will understand what mold is, how exposure can occur, the potential health effects, and practical steps to reduce the risk of exposure. This course is intended as a general awareness refresher and does not replace workplace-specific training or procedures.