Quick Course – Injury, Illness and Incident Reporting

Whenever, there is a workplace accident or illness, or a close call / near miss is experienced, the situation must be reported. Often times many of these incidents, especially first aid type of injuries are not reported which can lead to issues for the worker and the business.