Picture This! When What Goes Up Doesn’t Come Down

If you are driving a garbage truck or a dump truck, it’s important to remember that what goes up must come down before you try to pass under an obstruction such as an underpass or bridge superstructure. This photograph shows what happened when a garbage truck driver forgot to lower a raised bin at Coquitlam Centre Mall near Vancouver, Canada. In spite of the fact that the truck cab was crushed by a beam that came crashing town, the driver survived, but not without injuries. (CBC News)
