Picture This! Wrong Side of the Fence

This construction worker is standing in a most precarious place. In one split second of inattention he could step backwards into an easily fatal fall. (Washington State Department of Labor and Industries)