Radio Communication on the Job Fallen Phrases

Radios play an important part at many worksites for workers to be able to properly communicate with one another. Communication is critical to the safety of everyone at a worksite.